Story

Quita is a luxurious script penned by master calligrapher and best-kept Hollywood secret Xandra Y. Zamora. Her expertise with the pointed pen is apparent in the confident curves and magnificent flourishes seen throughout the typeface.

The unexpected curve at the end of the swashes present in the many of Quita's capital letters – and the name Quita itself, short for “chiquita” – were inspired by a beloved cat with a broken tail that Xandra once had.

Special attention was paid to the inherent rhythm of Xandra's handwritten specimens and alternate letterforms were included to invisibly achieve harmonious spacing among any combination of letters.

In visually translating Quita into a working typeface, Delve Fonts accurately captured and faithfully reproduced the vivacious letterforms as a connected script using OpenType features that are automatically applied as you type, giving you great typesetting right out of the box. You may further customize your message by applying some of the many stylistic alternates, discretionary ligatures, and swash variants available in Quita's character set.

Whether you are creating a menu, a wedding invitation, food packaging, or branding for luxury goods, Quita lends an artistic elegance and sense of refinement to any setting. You will take delight in its inherent beauty, its convenient features, and its reliability. Quita also accommodates over 200 languages, including Czech, Danish, Turkish, Polish, and Vietnamese.
